J. STANNAH

Our Heritage

In 1867, Joseph Stannah opened his doors for business. Today, Stannah remains an independent British family business, recognised as a leading global designer and manufacturer of stairlifts and home lifts. We deliver unrivalled performance and quality, ensuring our customers can stay in the homes they love.

Our world-class engineering and design expertise has driven Stannah's continuous innovation over the years. We are now entering a new dawn in our history, introducing an unparalleled level of beauty and craftsmanship to our customers like never before.

A new dawn in Stannah's history.

We have redefined our concept of a stairlift, challenging what it is and what it can be. Combining design excellence with advanced engineering, it offers the ultimate blend of comfort, style, safety, and automated movement, all with easy-to-use controls.

The result is our most innovative stairlift. By setting a new standard and leading the way for the next generation, we have designed a product to feel truly at home, in your home.

Ergonomics

We have balanced comfort and style without compromise. The seat depth and recline are designed to enhance support and safety, while thoughtfully placed armrests promote a sense of freedom and ease.

Seatbelt Security

Our innovative seatbelt seamlessly integrates into the chair, securely locking with a new magnetic latching system.

Easy-to-use Controls

Our intuitive controller is designed for ease of use. A simple ‘touch and hold’ is all it takes to move your stairlift up or down. The controls can be handed to suit your preference.

Automated Movement

Designed for effortless use, the stairlift automatically folds and swivels as needed, based on your personal preferences. These seamless functions work smoothly, minimising physical effort and making operation easy and convenient.

Quality Finishes

Designed to look at home in your home. Our selection of premium materials and finishes have been carefully chosen to provide an elevated, tactile experience, combining superior comfort with a beautiful design aesthetic.

Created for You

Paired with our bespoke rail, advanced mapping technology allows us to finely tune the ride, delivering a perfect experience tailored specifically for you in your home.

Discrete Design

The seat, arms, and footrest automatically fold into a neat, compact space, minimising the impact on your home.

Sensory Experience

Light and sound offer sensory affirmation, guiding you through your journey with positive, reassuring feedback at every step.

At home,
in your home.

Crafted with Care

Every Stannah product is crafted with a blend of modern technologies and generations of experience, creating products we are truly proud of. It is the result of a collaborative design and engineering effort, combining the strengths of the Stannah Group's companies. From raw materials to finishing touches, every step of the process is carefully considered and executed with the highest level of care — a hallmark of Stannah. While we look to the future, we never forget our past. The decades of skill and knowledge embedded in our business are why the human touch remains integral to our stairlifts today.

Seatbelt

The magnetic latching system, combined with an easy-to-use grab handle, provides a simple yet fast way of securing and releasing your seatbelt.

Lighting

The onboard lighting is specifically designed to enhance your experience. The armrest and footrest lighting not only look stunning in low light but also illuminate key areas of the product to reassure you of your safety when needed.

Footrest

Our products are rigorously tested under extreme conditions, giving you peace of mind when using them. The structurally engineered footrest is designed to support your weight and provide a stable platform when getting on and off the lift.

Rails

As with all Stannah products, the rail is a symbol of high-quality craftsmanship. The twin-tube design is built on over 20 years of proven success, offering class-leading ride quality with the highest level of stability and safety integrity, enhanced by sensors that ensure a clear path of travel.

Seat load sensor

Like our other exceptional products, sensing technology is used to detect when the user is seated and ready to begin their journey.

Stop button

Simplicity is at our core. With the push of a button, our product will stop and wait for you to attend to your needs. When ready to proceed, press the stop button again to resume your journey.

Materials and Finishes

Mist is a soft, bespoke woollen fabric that seamlessly complements any style of home. Crafted from 75% post-consumer wool, this fabric provides environmental benefits by repurposing existing materials and using less energy and water compared to virgin wool. Designed for contract furniture, Mist combines durability with elegance, offering a light and fresh option that is both practical and stylish.

Sepia is our wonderfully warm textile made from wood-based byproducts such as splinters, pellets, and sawdust. This innovative process repurposes materials that would otherwise be discarded, transforming them into a soft faux leather with a premium feel. Although Sepia is produced with modern techniques, its appearance offers a naturally aged finish through its grain and colour. Its durable and timeless finish makes it a perfect addition to any space.

At home, in your home, around the world.
